Safely invested and rapidly increasing.

Within the last quarter of a century the business of this Company has embraced the acceptance of over ninety thousand men as members, the receipt of over $33,000,000 in premiums, the payment of nearly $8,500,000 in losses to the representatives of deceased members, and dividends actually returned (not promised) amounting to over $6,000,000 to the assured. At the same time the assets have accumulated and offer absolute security. The present business of the Company is represented in the receipt of ten thousand applications for Policies per annum, and an annual income of over $7,000,000.

All desirable forms of Insurance are granted on the most practical plans, embodying the well-known non-forfeiture feature originated by this Company in 1860.

In addition to the above a new feature has recently been introduced by this company called the "Tontine Investment System," which combines the advantages of the Tontine Annuity and Life Insurance. Upon this new plan it is confidently expected that the dividends will far exceed those now declared by any other Company.

MR. LINCOLN AND MR. SEWARD.

From Review of Adams' Address on Seward by Cassius M. Clay.

Mr. Adams may well despair of popular support in his attempt to place the laurels of Lincoln upon Seward's brow, or to lower him from that high place where his own countrymen and all mankind have placed him. Stephen A. Douglas, the leader of the Democracy, after Mr. Clay's earlier days, was admitted to be the first stump orator of his time. In 1860, Lincoln, of all the opposition, was chosen to champion our cause. He met Douglas on many a field, before the whole people, and ever came off victor. The speeches of the two were published and circulated by the Republicans as campaign documents, but they were passed in studied silence by the Democrats. The oration of Lincoln, in the same year, before the Young Republicans of New York City, was never equalled by Seward in large conception and forcible and logical utterance. His celebrated speech at Gettysburg ranks with those of the great orators of all ages, and will live when Seward's studied rhetoric will have been forgotten. Lincoln had great men in his Cabinet, he was not only master of them all, as Charles A. Dana admits, but he was the master mind. Like Cromwell and Napoleon, he grew in rugged manhood in the world of privacy and experience, and came into great affairs with powers which scholarship and effete rhetoric can never equal. These are the men whose deeds shadow the imagination with divine agency, and whom the philosopher loves to contemplate as the highest evolution of nature's forces, and the most glorious development of the human mind. Lincoln's reticence in regard to his policy till firmly seated in power seems to others than Mr. Adams, not weakness, but wisdom, while Mr. Seward's oft-repeated assertions that there were no dangers ahead proved that he himself was either ignorant of the situation, or that he little understood human nature in his stereotyped false prophesies. This vascillating in the State Department—the declaration of the blockade when the ports should have been closed to foreign entry—his long opposition to emancipation—showed Seward "not equal to the present," though "reaching forward into the future" of a long and bloody war, which energy and talent might have brought to a speedy end. The delivery of Mason and Slidell, caused by Lincoln, though feebly claimed for Seward, was a necessity, in which all at once acquiesced, but it is not in human nature to show gratitude, even for benefits, followed by such humiliation.

JOKES.

Baker shot-gunned Dobbs fatally at Nevasota, Texas.

"Emma," said a little girl to her schoolmate, "wouldn't it be awful if somebody was to shoot our school-mistress?" "Yes," was the reply, "but then wouldn't it be nice not to have any school?"

At a recent agricultural show in Norfolk one of the inhabitants uttered his sentiments on a canvass banner:

"Of all the crops the Farmers raises,
Or Capital employses,
None bring such comfort and such praises
As a crop of girls and boyses"

"Oh that my father was seized with a remittent fever," sighed a young spendthrift at college.

Josh Billings says pedigree has no more to do in making a man aktually greater than he iz, than a pekok's feather in his hat would make him aktually taller.

"Ain't it wicked to rob dis here roost, Jim?" "Dat's a great moral question, Gumbo; we ain't got time to 'sider it now—hand down another pullet."

Why is a thief your only true philosopher? Because he regards every thing from an abstract point of view, is opposed to all notions of protection, and is open to conviction.

Said a conscientious auctioneer, "Ladies and gentlemen, there is no sham about the carpets; they are the genuine tapestry carpets, I bought them from old Tapestry himself."

"James Jenkins, what is an average?" said a schoolmaster to his pupil. "A thing, sir, that hens lay on," answered the scholar promptly. "Why do you say that, you silly boy?" asked the pedagogue. "Because, sir," said the youth, "I heard a gentleman the other day say as a hen would lay, on an average, a hundred and twenty eggs a year."

A school-boy being asked by his teacher "of what the German Diet was constituted," replied, "Sour-krout, schnapps, lager-bier, and nix cum rous." That lad must be a cousin-german to the boy who, when shown a picture of "Luther at the Diet of Worms," said, "Papa, I see Luther, but where are the worms that he is going to eat?"

"Woadsworth," said Charles Lamb, "one day told me he considered Shakspeare greatly overrated. 'There is' said he, 'an immensity of trick in all Shakspeare wrote, and people are taken by it. Now if I had a mind I could write exactly like Shakespeare.' So you see," proceeded Charles quietly, "it was only the mind that was wanting."

M. FORSTMYER.
F. W. HARDY.

I A Buckingham, City Attorney, submitted his written opinion in relation to the contract between J K Warren and city of Decatur, which was read and, on motion of Ald. Hill, the report was received and ordered published with proceedings of council:

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council of the City of Decatur:

GENTLEMEN:—The matter of the bond of John K. Warren and Orlando Powers, and the note of said Warren, referred to me to report upon the facts, and my opinion as to the legality of surrendering the said bond and note to Mr. Warren, has been examined by me in the light of all the facts available, and I beg leave to say that the bond contains some statements apparently in conflict with each other.

In the first place it recites the proposition of said Warren to buy the stock then held by the city, and to give therefor his obligation, with good personal security, &c., payable on or before January 1, 1875, and contains a proviso that the building of the road to Decatur within the time provided by the then present Illinois charter should be accepted in full discharge of said obligation. The bond further recites that that proposition of said Warren was accepted by the City Council, and that the said council thereupon instructed the Finance committee to procure from said Warren the necessary security for the faithful performance of his said proposition.

The meaning of the instructions to the finance committee, it seems to me, could not be mistaken: They were, to procure from said Warren security for the payment of the amount proposed to be paid; and only two modes of payment were contemplated in the proposition: One was the building of the railroad to Decatur; the other, payment of the amount, with interest, in money.

There is but one ambiguity in the proposition as I understand it, and that is the building of the road to Decatur. The question might arise, Where is the road to be built from? But it seems to me to be no difficult task to answer such an inquiry.—The road spoken of was the Indiana and Illinois Central Railway, having one of its termini at Indianapolis and the other at Decatur. The road, then, is the entire line from Indianapolis to Decatur; a road starting at Decatur and terminating before it reached Indianapolis would not be the Indiana and Illinois Central Railway, but only a part of it. Therefore, the proposition to build the road is entire, and when the entire road is built, and built to Decatur, the proposition of Mr. Warren to the city, and its acceptance thereof, will operate to discharge the obligation of said Warren and his security; provided that be done within the time provided by the then present Illinois charter for said road. If this were all, and if the finance committee had merely done as required by the council, there would have been less difficulty in determining the question submitted; but there are two other provisions in the bond that demand attention. The first is substantially as follows:

"WHEREAS, It has been agreed between said city and said Warren, that the construction and opening for traffic of said railway from Decatur, Illinois, to Indianapolis, Indiana, upon the present line of said company's road, or such variation thereof as may hereafter be adopted; or provided a continuous line of railway shall be obtained from Decatur aforesaid, to Indianapolis aforesaid, by the said company through their now line, starting from Decatur aforesaid and connections with any other line or lines of railway within the time provided for the construction of said railway by the charter granted by the legislature of the State of Illinois; provided the same shall be open for traffic by the first day of January, A. D. 1875, shall be held and taken as full payment of said note, and of all liability of said Warren, on account thereof."

Two propositions are here stated, either of which, coupled with the condition of completion within the time prescribed in the charter, and opening the same for traffic by the first day of January, A. D. 1875, will operate as a payment of said note. The first, that the construction and opening for traffic of said railway from Decatur to Indianapolis upon the present line of said company's road, or such variation thereof as might be adopted would be a substantial compliance with the proposition of said Warren. The expression "such variation thereof as might be adopted," could only be held to mean such a variation as would not materially alter or change the original line. In other words, such a variation as would be reasonable, under the circumstances, and such language could not, in my judgment, be tortured into warranting such a departure from the original line of said road, as to pass through the city of Terre Haute; therefore, inasmuch as there is no pretence that the road has been constructed upon its original, or any line on the east side of the Wabash river, there is no discharge of the obligation by performance of the first proposition. It is the second proposition, however, that appears most important, as it is certainly the most remarkable, in view of the following language in said bond. After reciting the purchase by the city of the stock, it proceeds, "and

WHEREAS, Said stock was purchased by said city with the view of aiding in the construction of said railway; and

WHEREAS, After said purchase of stock the City Council of said city became fearful that said road would never be constructed, and that said city would lose the amount paid for said stock, etc."

It is somewhat surprising that a city council that had purchased 3,931 shares of stock for something like twenty-five thousand dollars for the avowed purpose of securing the building of a railroad from Decatur to Indianapolis, and were fearful that the road would not be built, and that they would lose the money paid for the stock should stipulate, that if a continuous line of railway should be obtained from Decatur to Indianapolis by the said company through their own line, starting from Decatur and connecting with any other line or lines of railway, that that should operate as a payment of the vote given for said stock by the purchaser from the city. Yet such a construction at first blush seems inevitable from the language used, but I take it that taking the whole instrument together, such a construction of the Indiana, & Illinois Central Railway would not be aided, nor could the stock be transferred by Mr. Warren, in accordance with the terms of the contract between the stock holders which contract is attached to, and made part of, the bond. If only a portion of said road was to be constructed, and then connections made with other roads, out of the general course of the road to be aided and constructed, such a course could not be held to be a substantial compliance with the charter of said railway, nor with the wishes of those interested in its construction. If the language used in this second proposition is to receive a literal construction without reference to the whole instrument, then the road might be constructed to Hatamond, and there connect with the Bloomington & Ohio River Railroad and run either north or south to another line running east by which, or its connections, it could reach Indianapolis. The object in building the road will explain the meaning and afford a means of construing the language referred to; that is the construction of a road running as near as practicable in a direct line from Decatur to Indianapolis, and this provision was obviously intended to permit of the connection of said railway, with some other line or lines of railway running in a reasonably direct line from one of said railway's termini to the other; and an unreasonable deviation from a direct line, it seems to me would defeat all benefit which the city might and would have derived from the said railway if it had been constructed upon its original proposed route, and it being a question of fact and not of law, as to what is and what is not an unreasonable deviation, I leave the council to determine for itself whether or not the second proposition has been fulfilled so as to operate as pay ment of the note of said Warren. But both of the foregoing propositions depend upon the road being built, and connections made within the time prescribed by the then present charter of the Indiana & Illinois Central railway, which by the law in force at the time of the execution of the said bond, expired on the 26th day of April, 1873. As to the time when any connection was made through or over said railway with Indianapolis, I am informed by Mr. Warren, that it was done about the 1st day of May, 1873; if not done before that time, or by the 26th day of April, 1873, then no subsequent act, except payment in money, could operate as a payment of said note.

The next point to which I would direct your attention is, that by the contract entered into by the city with the stockholders of $600,000 of stock in said railway company to transfer the stock owned by it to any responsible parties who may contract to build the road without consideration, other than would be derived by the building of the road. The bond in question provides that Mr. Warren shall take the place of the city in that contract. Mr. Warren informs me that he has conveyed the stock in trust for the present constructors, and if conveyed in trust, then if the road is not built, then Mr. Warren would be entitled to a return of his stock, and in that event, he ought to pay his note. In my opinion, then, from the facts I have been able to gather, and the law as I understand it, the city would not be warranted in surrendering, as yet, the said note and bond. Respectfully submitted,

I. A. BUCKINGHAM, City Att'y.

THE KENTUCKY ELECTION.

A DEMOCRATIC VICTORY AS USUAL.

Terrific Storm on the Pacific Railroad.

Loss by the Portland Fire.

FAST TIME ON THE T. W. & W. R. R.

NEW YORK, August 4.—A Washington special says Governor Austin and Senator Ramsey, of Minnesota, had an interview with acting Secretary of State Davis regarding the imprisonment of the Minneapolis officers at Fort Garry. Mr. Davis stated the department would endeavor to secure the release on bail of all the parties pledging that if so released they shall appear to answer in a Canadian court when the case is called.

Yesterday afternoon, some Vandal entered the old Christ Church, in Alexandria, famous as the place where Washington worshipped, and turned the furniture upside down, destroyed all the music, saturated the cushions and prayer-books with oil, and removed the silver plate from Washington's pew, besides committing many other depredations.

CINCINNATI, August 4.—At the Nicholsville, Ky., election, at 5.30 o'clock, a disturbance between a white and a colored man terminated in a row. Several shots were fired. The crowd was much excited. The riot was quelled by citizens. Only two persons were slightly wounded. The Republicans carried the county by a very small majority, probably not over thirty.

NEW ORLEANS, August 4.—A San Antonio, Texas, special reports a threatened riot growing out of the severe chastisement given to a negro soldier by Capt. Tobyn, whose daughter the negro had insulted. The officers commanding the negro troops sent word to the city officials that they could not control their men. The citizens immediately turned out in force. The military authorities ordered the negro soldiers out of town, and, by their influence, quiet was restored.

CINCINNATI, Aug.—From fifteen hundred to two thousand people assembled at Woods' theatre to-night and endorsed the Columbus platform, calling themselves the "hopeless" party. Addresses were made by William Ramsey, Hon. Geo. E. Pugh and Judge Collins. Letters of sympathy were read from ex-Secretary Cox and Judge Stallo.

MADISON, Aug. 4.—Sunday passed very quietly here, on account of the liquor saloons being closed, or not selling liquor, in accordance with Mayor Chapman's order. Large numbers, however, visited the Schuetzen Park, in Blooming Grove, where beer flowed like water. But one complaint was made this morning—that against Frank Schmitz, for selling beer.

OMAHA, August 4.—The break reported on the M. T. Division of the Union Pacific Railroad has been fully repaired. The storm was reported to be fearful; rain, sleet and hail being combined. The hail in some places was piled up two feet deep. Reports from Omaha, Montana county, Iowa, and points in the eastern parts of this State, say grasshoppers descended about noon Saturday and have nearly destroyed the corn and oats, rendering the prospects for a crop very poor. Wheat is out of danger—a fine crop.

TOLEDO, O., August 4.—The fast train which has just been inaugurated on the Toledo, Wabash & Western Railway, made its first trip last night, arriving here from St. Louis this morning in the unprecedented time of thirteen hours and fifty minutes, including the time occupied in making western connections at Hannibal, Mo., Quincy, Ill., and Keokuk, Ia. The time between the Mississippi river and New York, by this train, is thirty-eight hours.

LOUISVILLE, August 4.—The election in this city passed off very quietly. Democrats were elected to the Legislature from all the districts of the city. The reform club candidates were beaten in all the closely connected districts.

Reports from the State at large indicate that James W. Tate is elected State Treasurer by an overwhelming majority over McKee, independent, who received not more than a few thousand votes through the entire State. In the Danville District Vernon Dean was elected to the State Senate by a large majority, over Weed, Republican. In the Lexington district the vote has been Wooldridge, Democrat, and Goodloe, Republican. The candidates to the State Senate will be close.

Fayette County elected Pratt, Republican, to the Legislature by a small majority. Jessamine county elects a radical candidate for the Legislature.

A light vote was polled throughout the State, and the Democratic candidates for the Legislature were elected in nearly all the counties. It is probable that Evans, Republican, has been elected to the State Senate from the Hopkinsville District, over McKenzie, Democrat.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Total loss by the Portland conflagration is $1,158,675. Insurance $231,000. It is proposed to rebuild immediately, and widen the streets to prevent the spread of fire in the future. Several sufferers from the December fire were burned out. Hon. Ben. Holladay proposes to assist the destitute sufferers, by buying tools, rebuilding their homes, backed by other wealthy men. Aid is asked from Chicago, St. Louis, New York, San Francisco, and other cities. Portland's loss is greater, comparatively, than that of Chicago or Boston.

CIRCUIT COURT.

AUGUST 5, 1873.

The summer term of the Macon circuit court convened yesterday at 10½ o'clock, A. M., his Honor, Judge C. B. Smith presiding.

The first business was the calling of the grand jury. After this was done the question was raised whether or not the array of grand and petit juries was legal, according to the provisions of the new law. The court reserved decision until afternoon, and adjourned to meet at 2 o'clock, P. M.

2 O'CLOCK, P. M.—Court called pursuant to adjournment. The question as to the legality of the selection of grand and petit jurors was argued pro and con by different gentlemen. After listening to arguments the court declared the array illegal, and discharged the persons called to serve as jurors from further attendance at this term of court.

After disposing of some motions, court adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock this morning.

9 O'CLOCK, A. M.—Court called this morning pursuant to adjournment.

The morning session was taken up by various motions, which were argued by counsel and disposed of by the court.

Adjourned to meet at 2½ o'clock, P. M.

Shooting Affray.—On yesterday two men by the name of Sears and Hudson were at work together in a field about half a mile from the village of Hinesboro, in Douglas county. In the course of the forenoon the two had some disagreement, and sharp words were used somewhat freely. At the dinner table the altercation was renewed, whereupon Sears left the table and went out, saying he did not wish to have any difficulty. Hudson followed him out and threw a club at him, saying at the same time that he would kill him. Sears at once drew his pistol and shot Hudson, the ball entering the lower jaw, and passing around lodged in the neck.—It is thought the wound will prove fatal. Sears at once gave himself up to the authorities.

A Hopeful Sign.—We notice by our exchanges that there is a general complaint of dull times at the popular summer resorts throughout the country. We regard this as an indication that people are coming to their senses, and that in seeking recreation and rest, they are adopting the more sensible plan of visiting in small parties, mountains, lakes and rivers, where they can breathe God's free air, untrammeled by the silly fashions and contemptible etiquette that predominate in fashionable society. If there is any place where men and women are complete slaves, it is at the popular places of summer resort. Hotels are packed full, fashion reigns supreme, and rivalry as to which can "put on the most style," keeps up an excited state of mind wholly incompatible with rest and quiet. Late suppers, late dancing, and general dissipation, do more to break down the system, enfeeble the mind, than can be undone by weeks of rest and repentance after the splurge of folly is over. It would be a blessing to our city people if all the big hotels at places of summer resort should burn down, and leave the proprietors too poor to build.—That our city people need rest from business, both for body and mind, is true. But they should seek it where it is to be found, and not rush by thousands to the midst of scenes where they are ten-fold more the children of slavery than when pursuing their usual avocations in their city homes. There is rest for body and mind in lounging in the midst of mountain scenery, listening to the song of birds, and the music of murmuring brooks.

The right way to obtain this rest is for from one to five families to engage their quarters in some private family, contiguous to such scenes as suit their fancy, and then they can have the quiet and freedom of home, with all the advantages of air and scenery, without the turmoil and excitement, to say nothing of the dissipation which characterizes popular summer resorts. In this way the summer respite from business may be made a blessing instead of a curse, and the real objects sought in vacations may be realized.

P. T. Barnum to the Public.

A rumor—originating with, and industriously circulated by unscrupulous showmen—having gained some credence, that I would divide my Great Traveling Exhibition on leaving Boston, I beg to state that such an idea has never been entertained for a moment. The vast enterprise—involving a cost of one million five hundred thousand dollars—is the crowning event of my managerial life, and, although acting against the advice of many experienced showmen, I shall adhere to my determination to keep the monster combination intact during the entire season.

The public's obedient servant,
P. T. BARNUM.

P. T. Barnum to the Public.

EDITORS REPUBLICAN.—In consequence of the immense throngs that have crowded my exhibitions daily since leaving New York, thousands being invariably turned away for want of room, I am admonished that my Manager has made a mistake in arranging for one day only in your city.—As, however, we are advertised three months in advance, it is impossible to make any change at this late day. In view of this, I would respectfully urge ladies, children, and all who can do so, to attend the 10 a. m. exhibitions, as those are rarely crowded, our performers and animals are fresh, and the entertainments are in every respect as full and complete as those in the afternoon or evening.

The public's ob't serv't, daw 1t) P. T. BARNUM.

A CARD.

EDITORS REPUBLICAN:—Upon an examination of the report of the Council proceedings last night, furnished upon your table for publication, I find the report of Mr. Buckingham, City Attorney, in regard to my contract with the city concerning the Ind. & Ill. Central Railway. I shall forego any remarks here as to the general misrepresentation of the rights of the subscriber that characterize that document; but I cannot overlook the fact that he has continued to make in his report a misstatement that I called his attention to twice yesterday, viz: in conversation yesterday he expressed the understanding that I assigned the stock referred to, in trust. I then corrected him stating that I assigned it absolutely. Again, last evening, immediately after the reading of the report to the Council, I promptly called his attention, by permission of the Council, to said misstatement, embodied in said report, and requested its correction; but I find it again the third time, produced to-day for publication without correction. I am certainly justified in the conclusion that it is an act of willful, determined and persistent misrepresentation on the part of the said Buckingham, for what reason or object I know not.

Respectfully,
J. K. WARREN.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping-Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Among the great discoveries of modern science, few are of more real value to mankind than this effectual remedy for all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. A vast trial of its virtues, throughout this and other countries, has shown that it does surely and effectually control them. The testimony of our best citizens, of all classes, establishes the fact, that CHERRY PECTORAL will and does relieve and cure the afflicting disorders of the Throat and Lungs beyond any other medicine. The most dangerous affections of the Pulmonary Organs yield to its power; and cases of Consumption, cured by this preparation, are publicly known, so remarkable as hardly to be believed, were they not proven beyond dispute. As a remedy it is adequate, on which the public may rely for full protection. By curing Coughs, the forerunners of more serious disease, it saves unnumbered lives, and an amount of suffering not to be computed. It challenges trial, and convinces the most sceptical. Every family should keep it on hand as a protection against the early and unperceived attacks of Pulmonary Affections, which are easily met at first, but which become incurable, and too often fatal, if neglected. Tender lungs need this defence; and it is unwise to be without it. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of childhood, CHERRY PECTORAL is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued from premature graves, and saved to the love and affection centred on them. It acts speedily and surely against ordinary colds, securing sound and health-restoring sleep. No one will suffer troublesome Influenza and painful Bronchitis, when they know how easily they can be cured.

Originally the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, no cost or toil is spared in making every bottle in the utmost possible perfection. It may be confidently relied upon as possessing all the virtues it has ever exhibited, and capable of producing cures as memorable as the greatest it has ever effected.

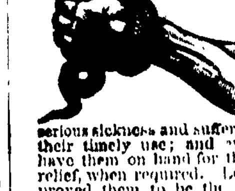

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.,

Practical and Analytical Chemists.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For the relief and cure of all derangements in the stomach, liver, and bowels. They are a mild aperient, and an excellent purgative. Being purely vegetable, they contain no mercury or mineral whatever. Much serious sickness and suffering is prevented by their timely use; and every family should have them on hand for their protection and relief, when required. Long experience has proved them to be the safest, surest, and best of all the Pills with which the market abounds. By their occasional use, the blood is purified, the corruptions of the system expelled, obstructions removed, and the whole machinery of life restored to its healthy activity. Internal organs which become clogged and sluggish are cleansed by Ayer's Pills, and stimulated into action. Thus incipient disease is changed into health, the value of which change, when reckoned on the vast multitudes who enjoy it, can hardly be computed. Their sugar-coating makes them pleasant to take, and preserves their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are ever fresh, and perfectly reliable. Although searching, they are mild, and operate without disturbance to the constitution or diet or occupation.

Full directions are given on the wrapper to each box, how to use them as a Family Physic, and for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor, and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action, or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back, and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression, a large dose should be taken, as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion, and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

The Diamond Glasses,

MANUFACTURED BY

J. E. Spencer & Co., N. Y.,

Which are now offered to the public, are pronounced by all the celebrated Opticians of the world to be the MOST PERFECT, natural, artificial help to the human eye ever known.

They are ground under their own supervision, from minute Crystal Pebbles, melted together, and derive their name, "Diamond," on account of their hardness and brilliancy.

THE SCIENTIFIC PRINCIPLE on which they are constructed brings the core or centre of the lens directly in front of the eye, producing a clear and distinct vision, as in the natural, healthy sight, and preventing all unpleasant sensations, such as glimmering and wavering of sight, dizziness, &c., peculiar to all others in use.

They are mounted in the finest manner in frames of the best quality, of all materials used for that purpose.

THEIR FINISH AND DURABILITY

CANNOT BE SURPASSED.

CAUTION.—None genuine unless bearing their trade mark stamped on every frame.
